E. O. HEYWOOD'S RETIREMENT.

Mr. E. O. Heywood, was entertained dimentary harbour picnic by the staff of the connected for the last 55 years with the now retired on a pension. Mr. Haywood was the Mining and junior clerk, and almost every position in the old acting deputy master. The occasion as sent by the Government for the occasion, George Dibbs, Mr. John See (Colonial), and Mr. W. J. Lyne (Minister for were present as guests. The whole of the abatement from the Deputy Master (Mr. d Cameron) down to the operators, joined vement.

amer Left Circular Quay about 1 p.m., and up Middle Harbour as far as Sugar Loaf (about 10 miles) and the party set lunch. The Deputy Master of the Mint and with him at the principal table were (Mr. E. O. Heywood, Sir George Dibbs, Lyne, Mr. John See, Mr. F. W. Webb, clerk of the Legislative Assembly), Messrs. Jackson, W. H. Pinney, A. Gardner, A. S. Gilchrist, J. F. Adams, Major M'Cutcheon to the Mint), Mr. E. H. S. von (superintendent), and Mr. D. J. Colley (assistant). Apologies were announced from G. C. Heydon (Attorney-General), Dr. MacLaurin (Vice-President of the Council), Mr. J. K. (Postmaster), Mr. H. Copeland (Minister for Lands), and Mr. H. Copeland (Minister for Lands).

Mr. Crichtett Walker, (Principal Under-Secretary), Mr. Charles and Mr. W. L. Vernon (Colonial Secretary).

At the conclusion of the lunch, the members were met to do honour to one who had been in the Mint for the past 35 years. The gentleman who was held in the highest esteem by the heads of departments no less than by the rest by in the establishment. (Applause.)

Mr. Vernon had filled almost all the offices of the Mint during the past 35 years, and on the death of the late deputy secretary he had been appointed to fill the vacancy created in that capacity for some time. Mr. Crichtett Walker (the chairman) was pleased to be able to present to the members of the Association a gentleman who had done so much for the Mint.

of a personal letter, setting forth his regrets at his disconnection with the staff with which he had been connected for so long a period, and in reply to the whole of the members of the establishment, who reciprocated this feeling, through an address which he had now great pleasure in making to Mr. Heywood. The address, which was beautifully illuminated by Messrs. G. W. Jones and Co., read as follows:—
O. Heywood, Esq. Dear Sir,—We, the undersigned, members of the Sydney branch of the Public Service, beg to express our sense of the loss this establishment sustains by your retirement as a member of the public service. We desire respectfully to convey to you our very best wishes for the success of your future career, and to assure you of our affectionate remembrance.

kindness, and consideration to all which has characterised your occupation in various positions which it has been to fill, from junior clerk to Acting Deputy during a period of 35 years. We also trust you may long be spared to enjoy the well-earned and that every happiness and prosperity upon yourself, Mrs. Heywood, and family." read by Mr. J. Macdonald Cameron and all agreed by the operators of the Mint.

McCutcheon, Mr. H. Giechster, and Mr. W. McCutcheon endorsed the chairman's remarks.

Heywood, in replying, said that if there was anything which occurred to him more than another, it was that he had been very well and of

to be fulfilled in his case, it would be such he would not get the better of it for some time. He hoped, however, that the pride he pardoned under the circumstances, but he tried to realise the greatness of the one to him: the less able he felt to express of it. In fact, he felt tempted to think that careless mistake had been made, and he was person meant in the address at all. He was not altogether undeserving of the kindness they had shown him. He realised the address presented to him for love and loving sentiments it answered upon above all, because he believed it to be kind.

He wished to rob the working man of in account of his wife and children, of the greatest sufferers, and also on of the work he degraded it was doing to himself. If he robbed the working man of a knew who would be the rich man before robbed of his beer the man would, in most robbed of his poverty. This working man was the chief hindrance to the of the labour cause. As a city, here were pouring down their throats one million of pounds in liquor every year—millions in 12 years—and then they cried depression. He wanted to see this liquor kicked on the head, and not only for the working men, but for the whole community or for it, power had gone, and would rise, in the hands of the people. Thereafter, he said, we began them if we educate the people, then they got rid of a bad democracy they got the world out on the face of the earth. Everyone who sit on the face of the colony at heart should do all to free the people from every demagoguing, raising influence—and where would they
